Uptick in Air Passenger Traffic at Changi Airport

Passenger movements at Changi Airport crossed the one million mark for the first time since March 2020 with 1.14 million movements recorded in March 2022. While this represented 20.3% of March 2019 traffic, it is almost six times more than the traffic registered in March 2021, signalling a gathering recovery momentum. A media release by CAG also reported 36,200 commercial aircraft movements and 2.56 million passenger movements in 1Q2022, which is 15.6% of pre-Covid-19 levels.

A separate statement by CAAS noted that Singapore is on track to restoring half of pre-COVID passenger volume by this year (68.3 million visitors were charted in 2019). Air passenger traffic in Singapore reached 31% of pre-COVID levels in the week ending 17 April 2022 (Easter Week). The number of passenger flights also increased to 38% of pre-COVID levels in the week.

More information is available in the full statements below.

Recent Activities

International Air Travel Recovery in Singapore and the Region

The third instalment of our new series of hybrid events on 'International Air Travel Recovery in Singapore and the Region' was held on 21 April 2022, featuring industry analyst and consultant, Brendan Sobie of Sobie Aviation. Brendan shared in-depth analyses of data including passenger traffic, airline operations and airport capacity figures from Singapore and around the region, and discussed projections on the recovery curve. His presentation was followed by a lively and interactive session with questions from both in-person and virtual attendees, touching on industry trends and the role of technology in the post-pandemic air travel era. View a recording of the session via the link below.

Industry Dialogue with EASA Executive Director Patrick Ky

 May 18, 2022
(2:30 PM - 5:30 PM)
(GMT+8)

 Orchard Room, Level...
Singapore

Aviation is in recovery from its deepest crisis yet. Doing so safely and addressing the need for skilled personnel are priorities. Yet aviation is also simultaneously undergoing significant change with Sustainability and Innovation high on the agenda. Not least among concerns too is the Russian-Ukrainian conflict ongoing in Europe.

The European Union Aviation Safety Agency (EASA) is the centrepiece of the European Union's strategy for aviation safety. Its mission is to promote and achieve the highest common standards of safety and environmental protection in civil aviation. How is EASA responding to the challenges and what might this mean for us in Southeast Asia?
