Grand Opening of Bombardier Singapore Service Centre Expansion

Congratulations to our member, Bombardier, on the Grand Opening of its expanded Singapore Service Centre on 30 June 2022. The expansion quadruples the company's footprint in Singapore, making it the largest OEM business aviation service centre in Asia Pacific, according to Bombardier CEO Éric Martel. New facilities introduced include a full-service, environmentally-controlled paint facility, advanced interior finishing capabilities, new heavy structural and composite repair capabilities, as well as an integrated parts depot that will serve the site and the region, with more than US$15 million in additional parts inventory. Bombardier will also be offering Sustainable Aviation Fuel as an option for business aviation operators at Seletar Airport.

Unmanned Air Mobility Roundtable - 13 July, 9am

Asia-Pacific is home to a number of megacities where Urban Air Mobility (UAM) could be an attractive alternative mode of transport. Successful implementation of UAM depends on having an ecosystem in place to support operations on the ground and in the air. This includes vertiport and charging infrastructure, standards and regulations, urban air traffic management systems, service providers and operators, etc.

AAIS, Volocopter and ITE are pleased to organise an inaugural Roundtable to discuss the UAM ecosystem in support of regional business opportunities. This is being held in conjunction with the Volocopter-ITE UAM Showcase Event on 12-13 July 2022 at ITE College Central. Roundtable participants will also have an opportunity to visit the showcase.

Register to attend in person

Recent Activities

How COVID and Conflict in Ukraine has affected Aircraft Leasing (Webinar)

AAIS was delighted to present this webinar on 23 June 2022, featuring Mr Rob Morris, Global Head of Consultancy at Ascend by Cirium, and Mr Rajaram Ramiah, Partner at RHTLaw Asia LLP. They shared their take on how aircraft leasing has weathered the pandemic and is dealing with the fallout from the war in Europe. Participants of the webinar took away good insights on the impact of sanctions on Russian leased fleets, the significance of the conflict with respect to global air travel recovery, and other uncertainties arising from a resurgence of COVID and other macroeconomic risks.

Cybersecurity Resilience in Aviation (In-Person)

With the increasing risks of cyber crimes worldwide, we were pleased to present a seminar on the topic of 'Cybersecurity Resilience in Aviation' with Mr Gerry Ngu, a senior expert in aviation cybersecurity. Gerry is currently the Technical Lead of the European Cybersecurity Centre for Aviation and Chairman of the recently established Network of Cybersecurity Analysts for the European Member States. The event attracted aerospace professionals from across the different subsectors. This in-person seminar was co-organised by AAIS and EASA, and held on AAIS premises in Seletar on 29 June.

Upcoming Industry Activities

Urban Air Mobility Roundtable

Jul 13, 2022
(8:30 AM - 1 PM)
(GMT+8)

ITE College Central...
Singapore 567720

The Asia-Pacific is home to a number of megacities such as Beijing, Jakarta, Manila and Tokyo, where Urban Air Mobility (UAM) could be an attractive alternative mode of transport. Even a more compact city like Singapore could benefit from UAM-enabled connectivity to nearby locations in adjacent countries.

The UAM concept envisages a safe and efficient air transportation system for passengers or cargo, flying over populated areas on intracity or intercity routes. Successful implementation of UAM depends on having an ecosystem in place to support operations on the ground and in the air. This includes vertiport and charging infrastructure, standards and regulations, urban air traffic management systems, service providers and operators, etc.

AAIS, Volocopter and ITE are pleased to organise an inaugural Roundtable to discuss the UAM ecosystem in support of regional business opportunities. This is being held in conjunction with the Volocopter-ITE UAM Showcase Event on 12-13 July 2022. Roundtable participants will also have an opportunity to visit the showcase.
